The Inline Group Becomes a 2018 Strategic Partner for the Association of Staff Physician Recruiters (ASPR)

The Inline Group is 1 of 7 Strategic Partners Chosen to Partner with ASPR in 2018

The Association of Staff Physician Recruiters, the leading authority on physician recruitment, onboarding and retention, is pleased to announce the addition of two companies for three year terms, to its Strategic Partnership initiative.

The Inline Group supports the in-house physician staffing professional with candidate sourcing, screening and matching services. The goal of The Inline Group is to provide a candidate pipeline that allows the in-house recruiter to focus on interviewing, hiring and on-boarding of providers. The Inline Group specializes in primary care, urgent care, hospitalist medicine and behavioral health. They use a combination of leading technology and a robust and current database to source candidates. Taking it one step further, their professional candidate advisors speak to and personally match every candidate to the specifics of each opportunity, saving the in-house recruiter time, money and frustration. By not charging traditional placement fees, headhunting fees or advertising fees, they provide the most economical value in healthcare recruitment.

"We're excited at The Inline Group to be chosen as 1 of 7 Strategic Partners, and we're especially proud that ASPR sees the value in what we offer," said Kelli Mulloy, President of The Inline Group.

The ASPR Strategic Partnership offers corporations the opportunity to work together with the association to provide innovative solutions for its membership. "The Inline Group looks forward to working with ASPR in ways that will support both organizations," said Mulloy. "This market is ripe with new ideas, solutions and technology and we see this opportunity as a great collaboration."
